DEFENDANTS' AMENDED NOTICE REGARDING
RESTORATION OF BLM'S NATIONAL TRUST SYSTEMS TO THE INTERNAL NETWORK FOR OPERATIONAL USE

On June 2, 2006, Defendants filed "Defendants' Notice To The Court Of Restoration Of BLM's National Trust Systems To The Internal Network For Operational Use." (Dkt. No. 3247) In that notice, Defendants reported erroneously that BLM restored its National Trust Systems to BLM's internal network for operational use on June 2, 2006. Subsequent to our filing this notice, we learned that, in fact, those Trust Systems were not restored to BLM's internal network for operational use on that date, but one of the systems was reconnected for certain testing activities. This amended notice is intended to clarify and correct the Notice filed on June 2, 2006.

Defendants now understand that the Alaska Land Information System ("ALIS") was not reconnected to BLM's internal network for any purpose on or after June 2, 2006. The Indian Automated Fluid Minerals Support System ("IAFMSS") was not reconnected to the BLM network for operational use, but was connected to the BLM internal network on the afternoon of June 2, 2006, to begin the initial stages of activation testing. IAFMSS was disabled from tester access on the morning of June 5, 2006, as the initial step for physical disconnection from the BLM internal network. A system administrator began standard backup procedures, upon the conclusion of which IAFMSS was physically disconnected from BLM's internal network on June 6, 2006, at 11:33 a.m., MDT. Since then, IAFMSS has remained physically disconnected from BLM's internal network.

Pursuant to conversations with Plaintiffs' counsel on June 7, 2006, Defendants have agreed to provide notice to Plaintiffs' counsel with notice of at least 48 hours before either IAFMSS or ALIS is connected to BLM's internal network.

Dated: June 9, 2006
