UNITED STATES' MOTION TO TERMINATE LEGACY
ANTITRUST JUDGMENT AND MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT
THEREOF

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 The United States respectfully moves to terminate the judgment in the above-
3 captioned antitrust case pursuant to Rule 60(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
4 The judgment was entered by this Court 52 years ago.<sup>1</sup> The United States has concluded
5 that because of its age and changed circumstances since its entry, the judgment no longer 6 serves to protect competition. The United States gave the public notice and the 7 opportunity to comment on its intent to seek termination of the judgment; it received no 8 comments opposing termination. For this and other reasons explained below, the United 9 States requests that the judgment be terminated.<sup>2</sup>

11 <sup>1</sup> This case was originally filed as Civil No. 66-483-TC.

12 <sup>2</sup> For the convenience of the Court, the United States notes that one or more of the 13 arguments in support of termination are the same for judgments in the following 35 cases 14 that the United States also seeks to terminate by separate motions: (1) United States v.
15 Pac. Coast Plumb. Supply Ass'n, et al., Civil No. 1686-92 (S.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 1912); (2)

1 II. BACKGROUND

2 From 1890, when the antitrust laws were first enacted, until the late 1970s, the 3 United States frequently sought entry of antitrust judgments whose terms never expired.<sup>3</sup> 4 Such perpetual judgments were the norm until 1979, when the Antitrust Division of the 5 United States Department of Justice (“Antitrust Division”) adopted the practice of 6 including a term limit of ten years in nearly all of its antitrust judgments. Perpetual 7 judgments entered before the policy change, however, remain in effect indefinitely unless 8 a court terminates them. Although a defendant may move a court to terminate a perpetual 9 judgment, few defendants have done so. There are many possible reasons for this, 10 including that defendants may not have been willing to bear the costs and time resources

<sup>3</sup> The primary antitrust laws are the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1–7, and the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 12–27. The judgment the United States seeks to terminate with this motion concerns violation of the Sherman Act.

1 to seek termination, defendants may have lost track of decades-old judgments, individual 2 defendants may have passed away, or company defendants may have gone out of 3 business. As a result, hundreds of these legacy judgments remain open on the dockets of 4 courts around the country. Originally intended to protect the loss of competition arising 5 from violations of the antitrust laws, none of these judgments likely continues to do so 6 because of changed circumstances.

7 The Antitrust Division has implemented a program to review and, when 8 appropriate, seek termination of legacy judgments. The Antitrust Division's Judgment
9 Termination Initiative encompasses review of all its outstanding perpetual antitrust 10 judgments. The Antitrust Division described the initiative in a statement published in the 11 Federal Register.<sup>4</sup> In addition, the Antitrust Division established a website to keep the 12 public informed of its efforts to terminate perpetual judgments that no longer serve to 13 protect competition.<sup>5</sup> The United States believes that its outstanding perpetual antitrust 14 judgments presumptively should be terminated; nevertheless, the Antitrust Division is 15 examining each judgment to ensure that it is suitable for termination. The Antitrust 16 Division is giving the public notice of—and the opportunity to comment on—its intention 17 to seek termination of its perpetual judgments.

18 In brief, the process the United States is following to determine whether to move to 19 terminate a perpetual antitrust judgment is as follows:

- 20 • The Antitrust Division reviews each perpetual judgment to determine whether it 21 no longer serves to protect competition such that termination would be 22 appropriate.

- 5 • The public has the opportunity to comment on each proposed termination 6 within thirty days of the date the case name and judgment are posted to the 7 public website.
- 8 • Following review of public comments, the Antitrust Division determines 9 whether the judgment still warrants termination; if so, the United States moves 10 to terminate it.

11 The United States followed this process for each judgment it seeks to terminate.<sup>6</sup>

12 The remainder of this motion is organized as follows: Section III describes the 13 Court's jurisdiction to terminate the judgment and the applicable legal standards for 14 terminating the judgment. Section IV argues that perpetual judgments rarely serve to 15 protect competition and that those that are more than ten years old presumptively should 16 be terminated. Section IV also discusses specific circumstances justifying termination.
17 Section V concludes. Appendix A attaches a copy of the judgment that the United States
18 seeks to terminate with this motion. A proposed order terminating the judgment 19 accompanies this motion.

(terminating one judgment); United States v. Am. Amusement Ticket Mfrs. Ass'n, et al.,
Case 1:18-mc-00091 (D.D.C. Aug. 15, 2018) (terminating nineteen judgments).

III. APPLICABLE LEGAL STANDARDS FOR JUDGMENT TERMINATION

This Court has jurisdiction and authority to terminate the judgment. The judgment provides that the Court retains jurisdiction. In addition, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure grant the Court authority to terminate the judgment. According to Rule 60(b)(5) and (b)(6), “[o]n motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party . . . from a final judgment . . . (5) [when] applying it prospectively is no longer equitable; or (6) for any other reason that justifies relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(5)–(6); see also Frew ex rel. Frew v. Hawkins, 540 U.S. 431, 441 (2004) (explaining that Rule 60(b)(5) “encompasses the traditional power of a court of equity to modify its decree in light of changed circumstances” and that “district courts should apply a ‘flexible standard’ to the modification of consent decrees when a significant change in facts or law warrants their amendment”) (citation omitted); United States v. Asarco Inc., 430 F.3d 972, 979 (9th Cir. 2005) (Under Rule 60(b), “a court may relieve a party from a final judgment when . . . it is no longer equitable that the judgment should have prospective application. . . . [This] Rule codifies the courts’ traditional authority, inherent in the jurisdiction of the chancery, to modify or vacate the prospective effect of their decrees.”) (citations and internal quotation marks omitted). Given its jurisdiction and authority, the Court may terminate the judgment for any reason that justifies relief, including that the judgment no longer serves its original purpose of protecting competition.<sup>7</sup> Termination of the judgment is warranted.

<sup>7</sup> In light of the circumstances surrounding the judgment for which it seeks termination, the United States does not believe it is necessary for the Court to make an extensive inquiry into the facts of the judgment to terminate it under Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(5) or (b)(6). The judgment would have terminated long ago if the Antitrust Division had the foresight to limit it to ten years in duration as under its policy adopted in 1979. Moreover, the passage of decades and changed circumstance since its entry, as described in this memorandum, means that it is likely that the judgment no longer serves its original purpose of protecting competition.

1 IV. ARGUMENT

2 It is appropriate to terminate the judgment because it no longer serves its original 3 purpose of protecting competition. The United States believes that this perpetual 4 judgment presumptively should be terminated because its age alone suggests it no longer
5 protects competition. Other reasons, however, also weigh in favor of terminating it.
6 Under such circumstances, the Court may terminate the judgment pursuant to 7 Rule 60(b)(5) or (b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

8 A. The Judgment Presumptively Should Be Terminated Because of Age

9 Permanent antitrust injunctions rarely serve to protect competition. The experience 10 of the United States in enforcing the antitrust laws has shown that markets almost always 11 evolve over time in response to competitive and technological changes. These changes 12 may make the prohibitions of decades-old judgments either irrelevant to, or inconsistent 13 with, competition. These considerations, among others, led the Antitrust Division in 14 1979 to establish its policy of generally including in each judgment a term automatically 15 terminating the judgment after no more than ten years.<sup>8</sup> This judgment—which is 16 decades old—presumptively should be terminated for the reasons that led the Antitrust 17 Division to adopt its 1979 policy of generally limiting judgments to a term of ten years.

18 B. The Judgment Should Be Terminated Because It Is Unnecessary

19 In addition to age, other reasons weigh heavily in favor of terminating the 20 judgment. Based on its examination of the judgment, the Antitrust Division has 21 determined that it should be terminated for the following reason:

- 22 • The judgment prohibits price fixing that the antitrust laws already prohibit. The 23 prohibition amounts to little more than an admonition that defendants must not 24 violate the law. Absent such terms, defendants still are deterred from violating 25 the law by the possibility of imprisonment, significant criminal fines, and treble 26 damages in private follow-on litigation; a mere admonition to not violate the

28 <sup>8</sup> U.S. DEP'T OF JUSTICE, ANTITRUST DIVISION MANUAL at III-147 (5th ed. 2008), <https://www.justice.gov/atr/division-manual>.

1 law adds little additional deterrence. To the extent a judgment includes terms 2 that do little to deter anticompetitive acts, it should be terminated.

3 The consent judgment was entered in 1967. Jurisdiction was explicitly retained in 4 Section VIII of the judgment. The consent judgment enjoined defendant manufacturers 5 of drill jig bushings from fixing prices for the sale or modification of drill jig bushings.
6 The defendants were also enjoined from communicating certain price-related information 7 to other manufacturers or sellers of drill jig bushings. The judgment should be 8 terminated because its terms largely prohibit acts the antitrust laws already prohibit (price 9 fixing).

10 C. There Has Been No Public Opposition to Termination

11 The United States has provided adequate notice to the public regarding its intent to 12 seek termination of the judgment. On April 25, 2018, the Antitrust Division issued a 13 press release announcing its efforts to review and terminate legacy antitrust judgments.<sup>9</sup>
14 On March 22, 2019, the Antitrust Division listed the judgment on its public website, 15 describing its intent to move to terminate it.<sup>10</sup> The notice identified the case, linked to the 16 judgment, and invited public comment. No comments were received opposing 17 termination.

1 V. CONCLUSION

2 For the foregoing reasons, the United States believes termination of the judgment
3 in the above-captioned case is appropriate and respectfully requests that the Court enter 4 an order terminating it. A proposed order terminating the judgment accompanies this 5 motion.
