

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE
FOREIGN AGENTS REGISTRATION ACT OF 1938, AS AMENDED

June 1950

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED:

I have the honor to report on the administration of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended, pursuant to Section 11 of that Act which reads:

The Attorney General shall, from time to time, make a report to the Congress concerning the administration of this Act, including the nature, sources, and content of political propaganda disseminated or distributed.

This report deals with the five-year period commencing January 1, 1945 and ending December 31, 1949, and is the second such report to the Congress.

The Foreign Agents Registration Act was originally enacted in 1938 and was amended in 1939 and in 1942. By Executive Order No. 9176 of June 1, 1942, the administration of the Act was transferred from the Department of State to the Department of Justice. The previous report, submitted by Attorney General Biddle, covered the period from June 1942, when the administration of the Act was transferred to the Department of Justice, to December 31, 1944.

The major changes in the original Act effected by the 1942 amendments and the procedures established for its administration were discussed at length in Attorney General Biddle's report. There is, therefore, no necessity for their repetition. Continuation in the main of such procedures has characterized the Department's administration of the Act.

In the years 1942-1944, the period last reported upon to the Congress, propaganda activities of agents of Axis countries had largely been eliminated through the entry of the United States into the war and the subsequent application of wartime security measures. During the war years the Foreign Agents Registration Section of the Department of Justice was concerned chiefly with the activities of agents of Allied Governments whose propaganda was concerned in large measure with the contributions of the respective countries to the common cause of resistance to the Axis.

The nature and scope of the activities engaged in by agents in the United States of principals abroad have again changed in the years intervening since the end of World War II. The creation of new sovereign states, the establishment of the United Nations, the intensification of the conflict of ideologies all over the world, and the realignment of world powers, have created new problems in the administration of the Foreign Agents Registration Act and in the type and nature of propaganda disseminated in the United States by agents of foreign principals.

In the period reported upon by Attorney General Biddle, 285 public registration statements had been filed with the Department.<sup>1/</sup> Of this number, 111 were terminated. <sup>1/</sup> From January 1, 1945 to December 31, 1949, 317 registration statements were filed with the Department of Justice and 278 were terminated. At the close of the calendar year 1949 there were 213 active registration statements in the Department's public file. A breakdown of these registration statements by years is contained in Table I, infra.

A list of all persons <sup>2/</sup> who have filed public registration statements with the Department of Justice is contained herein as Appendix II. The registrants are listed in this appendix according to registration number and terminated statements are indicated. Appendix III is an alphabetical listing of all registrants whose statements were in active status for any portion of the period covered by this report. Terminations are again denoted. This appendix contains as well the names of the foreign principals and a brief statement of the nature of the agency. The persons whose public registration statements were in active status as of December 31, 1949, set forth according to the geographical area or the nationality field which that agent represented, are listed in Appendix IV of this report. Appendix V lists alphabetically each individual who filed in support of the registration statement an Exhibit A or short form registration statement which is permitted when the registration statement is filed in the name of a partnership, corporation, committee or other combination of individuals. The utilization of this exhibit avoids a multiplicity of registrations on behalf of the same foreign principal in the conduct of one obligation, and has thus relieved registrants of a heavy burden. The identity of the registrant can be determined by reference to Appendix II through correlation of the registration number.

<sup>2/</sup> The term "person" as defined in the Act includes an individual, partnership, association, corporation, organization, or any other combination of individuals.

A major change in the administration of the Act which occurred during the period now reported upon was the withdrawal on September 30, 1946 of the exemption provision of Section 3(f) of the Act. This clause, which exempted from the public registration requirements of the Act a person whose foreign principal was a government of a foreign country the defense of which the President deemed vital to the defense of the United States, was enacted in 1942 to prevent placing undue administrative burdens upon Allied Governments and to avoid any disclosure which might prove of assistance to the enemy. In order for an agent of a foreign government to avail himself of the Section 3(f) exemption he was required to supply full information concerning his identity, address, employees, business and other activities, as well as the names and agencies of the government represented. In addition, each agent was required to be certified as such by the diplomatic representative of the country on whose behalf he was acting within the United States. Such statements, termed Allied Government statements, were withheld from public inspection.

During the entire period for which the Allied Government procedure under Section 3(f) was available, a total of 262 statements was filed. Of this number, 223 were received in the period covered by the last report and 39 were submitted in the period between January 1, 1945 and September 30, 1946. Table II, infra, shows a breakdown of these Allied Government statements during the period of this report:

STATISTICAL SUMMARY, Allied Government Statements
January 1, 1945 to December 31, 1947

	1944	1945	1946	1947	Total for Period

On active status at end of year	155	158	69	0

Each Allied Government statement filed pursuant to Section 3(f) was assigned an identifying number as it was received. Appendix VI lists successively by exemption number all the agents who filed these statements, together with the identity of their principal. Appendix VII lists alphabetically all persons who filed Allied Government statements, together with a brief statement of the nature of the agency. Listed in Appendix VIII is the name of each individual who filed in support of the Allied Government statement an Exhibit A or short form statement which was permitted when the Allied Government statement was filed in the name of a partnership, corporation, committee, or other combination of individuals. The identity of the agency can be determined by reference to Appendix VI through correlation of the exemption number.

The 1942 amendments to the Foreign Agents Registration Act broadened the definition of an agent of a foreign principal so as to require the registration of many persons other than those engaged in propaganda <sup>3/</sup> or public relations activities. These have included attorneys representing foreign governments and commercial agents whose foreign principals are foreign governments and chambers of commerce. A functional analysis of the public registration statements which were in active status during any portion of the years 1945 through 1949 indicates, for example, that attorneys constitute the second largest group of registrants. With the gradual resumption of more normal international trade and tourist activity, the largest group of registrants consists, as may be expected, of agents engaged in advertising and publicity and in travel and tourist promotion activities. The functional breakdown of the registrations active during this period is found in Appendix IX.

Although this functional analysis of registration statements includes many agents of foreign principals not engaged in the dissemination of political propaganda, nonetheless the main emphasis of the Act is to achieve full disclosure by agents of foreign principals who are engaged in political propaganda activities. These agents have used almost every known means of distributing their propaganda among the American people. News letters, releases, pamphlets, travel documents, colorful magazines

<sup>3/</sup> The term "political propaganda" as defined in the Act by Section 1(j) includes any oral, visual, graphic, written, pictorial, or other communication which is reasonably adapted to prevail upon, indoctrinate, convert, induce, or in any other way influence a recipient or any section of the public within the United States with reference to the political or public interests, policies, or relations of a government of a foreign country or a foreign political party or with reference to the foreign policies of the United States or promote in the United States racial, religious, or social dissensions.

and books, including even comic books, have been utilized. Likewise, the radio, motion pictures and the lecture platform have served as outlets for propaganda. The recent widespread development of the television industry suggests a new and undoubtedly fruitful medium.

The tendency noted in the last report to the Congress toward the increasing use of various governmental as distinguished from private or commercial information services for the distribution of political propaganda has continued. Great Britain is an outstanding example of a country which has made exhaustive use of its government information services to distribute a wide range of material in this country, in addition to the usual news releases and travel folders. The British have made use of special photographic displays covering various sections of the United Kingdom, economic and social reports on various aspects of British life, and magazines designed to stimulate travel to Great Britain and interest in British products.

A total of forty-one information and travel offices was maintained by foreign governments in this country during all or part of this five-year period. This indicates, of course, continued governmental supervision of propaganda activities. Another tendency noted in this same field has been a movement by several governments to bring their information services or offices within the embassies or legations of these countries rather than maintaining them as organizations separate and apart from the diplomatic posts. By so doing they become exempt from registration under Section 3(a) of the Act. Many government information services are still independently operated but the tendency to make them diplomatic functions is continuing.

A few broad generalizations as to the content of political propaganda issued in the United States by persons subject to the Foreign Agents Registration Act may be cited. There is, of course, the material designed to present the viewpoint of a given country on political and economic issues arising in the United States which affect the particular foreign nation. The existence within our borders of the United Nations has brought a new type of propaganda in the form of materials designed to present the positions of nations on important issues being discussed in the United Nations. Examples of propaganda issued by warring or disputing nations are the various releases on such questions which have been before the public in the years from 1945 to 1949, such as the dispute between the Arab and Israeli forces, the Communist advance in China, the civil war in Greece, the division of India, the creation of the Indonesian Republic, and the strained relations between the Tito regime in Yugoslavia and the Government of the Soviet Union. The existence of a large refugee population and the question of displaced persons have likewise been reflected in the propaganda received.

By far the largest portion of the material distributed in this country, however, consists of publications designed to build up goodwill in the United States toward the country which is issuing propaganda and those publications which are designed to stimulate travel and trade in foreign lands. The vast travel literature is concerned not only with technical information on travel and trade conditions but also diversified material intended to stimulate a friendly interest in the country.

As previously indicated, information disseminated by government offices and tourist bureaus constitutes one of the highest by volume of materials distributed among the American public and its potential influence on public opinion may consequently be considered to be higher than most of the types of propaganda issued by registrants. Appendix X represents a breakdown of the expenditures made by government information and tourist offices in the years 1945 through 1949 and shows the approximate number of employees of these offices in each of the years in which operations were carried on by the foreign government information and tourist offices.

It will be noted that the British Information Services reports the highest annual volume of expenditures for each of the years covered by this report. Likewise, it reports the largest number of employees in each year. Comparatively heavy expenditures are also reflected in the reports of the Netherlands Information Bureau and the Government of India Information Services. The change from wartime to peacetime propaganda as reflected in the expenditures of information services can be gauged in several instances by the decrease in amounts, as for example, the Royal Norwegian Information Service and the Belgium Information Center. By way of contrast the first report of the Austrian State Tourist Department appears in the year 1947 and increases annually thereafter.

Some countries, on the other hand, do not maintain separate information services and, therefore, their activities in this respect are not reflected in Appendix X. Most notable among these is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics whose Embassy in Washington is directly responsible for the printing and distribution of its monthly bulletin and is, therefore, covered by an exemption to the Foreign Agents Registration Act and does not file a registration statement or report on expenditures. In other instances political propaganda is received in the United States directly from the propaganda departments or ministries of foreign governments and thus no data are available as to expenditures or employees of these governments. Included in this category are Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Spain.

In administering the Foreign Agents Registration Act the Department has consistently directed its efforts toward obtaining to the largest possible extent the disclosure which the Act was designed to achieve. The registration statements, the supporting exhibits and the supplemental statements which are required to be filed every six months are, of course, the primary means of acquainting the public with the identity of the agent, the foreign principal and the activities of the agent. Disclosure is achieved likewise through the labeling requirements of the Act. The label is so phrased as to identify to the public the identity of the agent disseminating the political propaganda, as well as his foreign principal and the fact of registration. The disseminator of all political propaganda, whether written, visual or oral, must be identified by the label. Motion pictures classified as political propaganda carry the label either at the beginning or at the end of the film.

Similarly, transmission of political propaganda by radio must be preceded or followed by an oral statement embodying the labeling requirements. In complying with the mandate that all political propaganda must be filed not only with the Department of Justice but with the Library of Congress, where it is available for public inspection, registrants using the radio must file copies of their scripts and distributors of propaganda through motion pictures must submit written descriptions of the scenario or the written commentary of the film itself.

It should be pointed out that the labeling provisions of the Act do not require labeling in all instances of dissemination of political propaganda. Propaganda disseminated in the name of diplomatic officers, for example, need not be labeled since such persons are exempt from registration. Usually in such instances, of course, the identity of the disseminator is apparent. On occasion, however, the Department has been aware of propaganda issued by diplomatic officers without disclosing the source. Labeling of propaganda issued by subagents can be compelled only when the subagent is under the control or direction of the registrant. When a registered agent writes a letter to a newspaper or an article for a magazine the publisher cannot be required to label the material.

In carrying out the primary aim of the Act to prevent concealment from the public of the activities of agents of foreign principals, the Department has, through announcements, through periodic press releases and otherwise, endeavored to give the widest possible notice of the statute, its purposes and provisions. The Department of State and its consular representatives abroad have, where appropriate, brought the registration requirements of the Act to the notice of persons seeking to come to the United States or to operate through agents in the United States. Likewise, through correspondence and through conferences the Department has regularly advised of the provisions of the Act and its applicability in many cases and has rendered assistance in the execution of registration statements, supporting exhibits, supplemental statements and dissemination reports.

In the period between June 1942 and December 31, 1944, covered by Attorney General Biddle's report, a total of nineteen criminal prosecutions for violations of the Act was instituted. During the period under review there has been only one indictment under the Act.

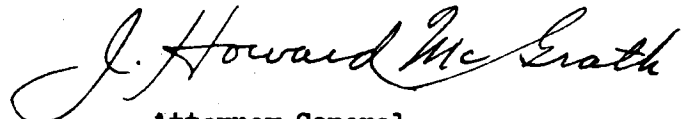

Until September 30, 1946, Amtorg Trading Corporation had filed an Allied Government statement under the exemption provisions of Section 3(f). With the withdrawal of the exemption procedure by the President, however, Amtorg consistently refused to file a public registration statement. Ultimately an indictment under appropriate sections of the Act was returned against the corporation and six of its officers. Immediately after the indictment, the Amtorg Trading Corporation filed a registration statement, naming as its foreign principals eighteen Soviet Government-controlled trading companies as well as the Ministry of Maritime Fleet, the Ministry of Foreign Trade, and the Bank of Foreign Trade of the U.S.S.R. Upon full compliance with the terms of the Act, the corporation's plea of nolo contendere was accepted by the Court and the indictment was dismissed as against the individual defendants.

One of the principal problems in the administration of the Foreign Agents Registration Act has revolved around the exemption provisions of Section 3(d) which, in substance, exempts from registration persons engaged in ordinary private commercial activity in furtherance of the bona fide trade and commerce of the foreign principal. Interpretation of this Section has been complicated in the post-war years through the increase in activities in the United States of agents of industries nationalized in many countries or of government-owned or controlled corporations. In such instances the availability of the so-called commercial exemption is determined by an examination of the activities of the agent within the United States.

The Foreign Agents Registration Act is administered in the Department of Justice through an administrative section assigned to the Criminal Division. For a period of time during the war years this Section was a part of the War Division. At that time it was assisted by a unit in the War Division engaged in the analysis of the foreign language press in the United States and of propaganda directed toward foreign nationality and language groups in this country. Through this means the Department was acquainted with the activities of foreign agents which a dependence on the English language press alone would never have revealed. With the curtailment of the activities of the Department at the close of the war it was necessary to discontinue this unit engaged in analyzing foreign language materials. For most of the period which is the subject of this report, therefore, reliance has been placed mainly on the Department's normal sources of information and through the investigative efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Respectfully submitted:

Attorney General

"(9) Copies of each written agreement and the terms and conditions of each oral agreement, including all modifications of such agreements, or, where no contract exists, a full statement of all the circumstances, by reason of which the registrant is performing or assuming or purporting or has agreed to perform for himself or for a foreign principal or for any person other than a foreign principal any activities which require his registration hereunder;

"(10) Such other statements, information, or documents pertinent to the purposes of this Act as the Attorney General, having due regard for the national security and the public interest, may from time to time require;

EXEMPTIONS*

Rule 300. Burden of Establishing Availability of Exemptions.

In all matters pertaining to exemptions, the burden of establishing the availability of the exemption shall rest with the person for whose benefit the exemption is claimed.

Rule 301. Exemption under Section 3 (a).

The exemption provided by section 3 (a) shall apply to diplomatic officers duly accredited to the Government of the United States, and to consular officers who, after appointment by their governments, have received formal recognition as such from the Secretary of State, whether such recognition is provisional or by exequatur. The exemption is available, however, only while such diplomatic or consular officers are engaged exclusively in activities which are recognized by the Department of State as being within the scope of the functions of such officers.

Rule 302. Exemptions under Sections 3 (b) and (c).

(a) The exemption provided by section 3 (b) shall apply only to officials of foreign governments which are recognized by the United States, who have filed a fully executed Foreign Official Status Notification with the Secretary of State.

(b) The exemption provided by section 3 (c) shall apply only to members of the staff of, and persons employed by, duly accredited diplomatic or consular officers of foreign governments who are so recognized by the Department of State, who have filed a fully executed Foreign Official Status Notification with the Secretary of State.

(c) The exemption provided by sections 3 (b) and (c) shall not be regarded as available to any person described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Rule if:

(1) he engages in any activities which are not recognized by the Department of State as being within the scope of such person's functions;

(2) he, directly or indirectly, circulates or disseminates any political propaganda as defined in section 1 (j), which is in the form of prints, speeches, broadcasts, or in any other form reasonably adapted to being, and which he has reason to believe will be, or which he intends to be, circulated or disseminated to two or more persons within the United States, or any other American republic;

(3) he acts, or has agreed to act, as a security or an intelligence officer, or acts, or has agreed to act, in a related or similar capacity;

*See Section 3 of the Act.

(4) he is employed, directly or indirectly, in furnishing information or advice pertaining to political or public interests, policies or relations (including information or data with respect to the political, industrial, employment, economic, social, cultural, or other benefits, advantages, facts, or conditions of any foreign country, the government of any foreign country, or any foreign political party), to any person other than officials of his government, the Government of the United States, or any other government which is not at war with the United States, and which is not aiding, or dominated by, any government at war with the United States or any of her Allies;

(d) Provided, that in no event shall the exemption provided by section 3 (b) be available to any citizen of the United States.

Rule 303. Exemption under Sections 3 (d) and (e).

(a) Except as provided hereafter in paragraph (b) of this Rule, no person shall be regarded as being engaged, or as having agreed to engage, only

(1) in private, nonpolitical, financial, mercantile, or other activities in furtherance of the bona fide trade or commerce of a foreign principal (as provided in section 3 (d)), or

(2) in the soliciting or collecting of funds and contributions within the United States to be used only for medical aid and assistance, or for food, and clothing to relieve human suffering, if such solicitation or collection of funds and contributions is in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Act of November 4, 1939, as amended (54 Stat. 4, 8), and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed thereunder (as provided in section 3 (d)), or

(3) in activities in furtherance of bona fide religious, scholastic, academic, or scientific pursuits or the fine arts (as provided in section 3 (e)), if he engages in any political activity as defined in Rule 100 on behalf of a foreign principal, on his own behalf, or on behalf of any other person, or engages in any other nonexempt activity.

(b) Any person who is an agent of a news service, radio news service, photo news service, or press service or organization, organized under the laws of or having its principal place of business in a foreign country, or who is an agent of a newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication published by a foreign principal, shall be regarded as exempt under the provisions of section 3 (d) with respect to his activities as such agent if, and so long as, his "political activity" as defined in Rule 100, is confined to:

(1) gathering and reporting information which is reasonably adapted to being, and which he intends to be, used by his principal purely for news purposes, and not for the purpose of disseminating political propaganda;

(2) broadcasting or writing for publication within the United States, concerning which the Foreign Agents Registration Section has previously been notified in writing, or the making of extemporaneous oral communications, which broadcasts, writings, or communications are not intended for the purpose of disseminating political propaganda;

Provided, however, that such agent shall not be regarded as exempt under the provisions of section 3 (d) if:

(i) any of the activities of the agent are performed for or directed by any foreign government or foreign political party;

(ii) the foreign principal is owned or subsidized, in whole or in part, by, or any of its activities are directed by, any foreign government or foreign political party;

(iii) the foreign principal is any such service or association organized under the laws of, or having its principal place of business in, or any such publication printed in, any foreign country with which the United States is at war, or any foreign country allied with, or occupied or dominated by, any such country; or

(iv) the agent engages in any activity set out in paragraph (a) (8) (iv) or (viii) of Rule 100.

(c) This Rule shall not be construed as fully defining the several activities which, if engaged in, make the exemption under section 3 (d) unavailable.

(d) As used in this Rule, the term "trade or commerce" shall include the exchange, transfer, purchase, or sale of commodities, services, or property of any kind.

Rule 304. Disclosure of Identity under Clause (2) of Section 3 (f).

(a) Disclosure of the identity of a person as an agent of a foreign principal in accordance with clause (2) of section 3 (f) shall be made at the beginning of each communication or expression referred to in said clause, and shall be by some means reasonably adapted to convey to the recipient:

(1) the name of the person engaged in the publication, dissemination or circulation of such matter;

(2) the fact that such person represents a government or is acting in the interests of a government, and the identity of the government or governments represented by such person in the publication, dissemination or circulation of such matter.

Rul 305. Exemption under Claus (3) of S ction 3 (f).

(a) General Requirements. Except as hereinafter provided, the exemption provided by section 3 (f) shall be available to a person whose foreign principal is a government of a foreign country the defense of which the President deems vital to the defense of the United States only if there has been furnished to the Secretary of State for transmittal to the Foreign Agents Registration Section or, with the consent of the Secretary of State, to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, the following:

(1) Statement Required--Within the period specified in paragraph (d) of this Rule, a statement concerning the identity and activities of such person;

(2) Copies of Communications Transmitted--Within ten days after the first day of each calendar month, two summaries of any oral, and two copies of any visual, graphic, written, pictorial, or other communication or expression by any such person, which he has, or which he has reason to believe has been, circulated or disseminated to or among twenty or more members of the public within the United States during the previous calendar month, together with a statement setting forth with respect to each such communication, or summary, or copy thereof, (i) the approximate number of persons to, or among whom, such communication was circulated or disseminated by him, if known, (ii) the means by which such communication was circulated or disseminated, and (iii) the names and addresses of persons designated by him to receive twenty or more copies of such communication. If any such communication is circulated or disseminated during any subsequent month, it shall not be necessary to furnish copies of such communications for each additional month, and it shall be sufficient if there is furnished in the detail described above a statement concerning the further circulation or dissemination of each such communication;

(3) Additional Information--Such other statements, information, or documents pertinent to the purposes of the Act as the Chief of the Foreign Agents Registration Section of the Department of Justice may from time to time require with respect to the identity and activities of such person, or any group or organization of such persons referred to in paragraph (c) of this Rule.

(b) Waiver of Requirements--The Chief of the Foreign Agents Registration Section may, upon application in writing, in the interests of the national defense, internal security, and foreign relations of the United States, and subject to such terms and conditions as those interests may dictate, waive, in writing, any or all of the requirements of paragraph (a) of this Rule, with respect to any person, group or organization. Such waiver shall set forth the terms and conditions upon which it is granted. The filing of any such application for waiver will be deemed to be a compliance with the requirements of this Rule pending notification by the Chief of the Foreign Agents Registration Section of his decision with respect to such application.

(c) Form--The statement referred to in paragraph (a) (1) of this Rule shall be furnished, in duplicate, to the Secretary of State on Form FA-3F. A separate statement shall be furnished on such Form with respect to each person referred to in paragraph (a) of this Rule, except where two or more of such persons and employees are associated as an established group or organization engaged in activities as a unit. In such case, a statement with respect to such group or organization shall be furnished on Form FA-3F, and a separate statement need not be furnished with respect to any individual or person within the group or organization, unless such person engages independently of the group or organization in activities on behalf of his government for which no exemption is available except under section 3 (f).

(d) Time Within Which Form Must be Furnished--Form FA-3F shall be furnished within the following specified periods:

- (1) if the person is an agent on June 28, 1942, within thirty (30) days thereafter; or
- (2) if not an agent on June 28, 1942, within thirty (30) days after he first becomes an agent; or
- (3) within such extended period as the Chief of the Foreign Agents Registration Section, for good cause shown, may designate.

(e) Procedure When Person is Agent for More Than One Government--If any person referred to in paragraph (a) (1) of this Rule is an agent of more than one such government, separate statements pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this Rule shall be furnished with respect to his activities on behalf of each such government.

(f) Amendments and Supplements to Statements Furnished.

(1) Notice of Change in Statement Under Paragraph (a) (1)-- Within ten (10) days after any material changes occur in the information contained in a statement furnished pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this Rule relating to:

- (i) the activities of the agent,
- (ii) the agreements, charters, by-laws, or other documents under which he operates, or
- (iii) officers, directors, or persons performing similar functions, a statement setting forth such changes shall be furnished to the Secretary of State for transmittal to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, or, with the consent of the Secretary of State, to the Foreign Agents Registration Section.

(2) Six-Months Supplements-- Within thirty (30) days after the expiration of each period of six months succeeding the date upon which a statement is furnished to the Secretary of State pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this Rule, a statement shall be furnished to the Secretary of State for transmittal to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, or, with the consent of the Secretary of State, to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, setting forth current information with respect to each item set out in the original statement furnished. Six-months supplements shall be filed on Form FA-3F-6M.

(g) Receipt of Statements and Amendments--All statements, supplements and amendments submitted in accordance with this Rule will be deemed to have been furnished upon receipt thereof by the Secretary of State, or, if furnished directly to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, upon receipt by that Section.

(h) By Whom Forms Are to be Executed--Forms FA-3F, FA-3F-6M, and the statements to be furnished pursuant to paragraph (a) (2) of this Rule shall be executed by the individual agent or a majority of the partners, officers, or directors of the agent, or persons performing similar functions for the agent. In addition, Forms FA-3F and FA-3F-6M shall bear a certification that the agent on whose behalf the Form is filed is an agent of a particular government. Such certification shall be made by the person who, within the United States, is the head of the diplomatic mission of the government for which such person or employee is an agent, or by any responsible official of such government designated by the head of such diplomatic mission.

(i) Effect of Exemption Under Sections 3 (a) Through (e) Inclusive--Any person exempt under sections 3 (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) shall not be required to comply with the provisions of this Rule.

(j) Nonexempt Activities--Effect of Compliance with Rule--The fact that the requirements of this Rule have been complied with with respect to a person shall not operate to relieve such person from filing a registration statement pursuant to section 2 (a) or from complying with the provisions of section 4 or the Rules and Regulations, with respect to any nonexempt activity on behalf of any other foreign principal.

(k) Employees--The provisions of this Rule shall apply to any employee of any person described in paragraph (a) hereof.

(l) Requirements of Rule in Addition to Conditions of 3 (f)--The requirements of this Rule shall be in addition to and not in substitution of the conditions set forth in clauses (1) and (2) of section 3 (f).

(6) The nationality groups to which such matter is transmitted.

(7) The names and addresses of all publications printed in any language other than English which are designated to receive copies.

(8) If such matter is in the form of radio script, any part of which has been written or edited by, or at the direction of, the foreign agent, set forth the radio station from which the broadcast is made and the name of the broadcasting chain used, if any, and the date or dates when broadcast.

(9) Such additional information with respect to the places, times and extent of such transmittal, as the Chief of the Foreign Agents Registration Section, having due regard for the national security and public interest, may require in any particular case.

(b) Any statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Rule may incorporate by reference any information set forth in a similar statement previously filed by the same person pursuant to paragraph (a). In such case, however, the statement previously filed shall be specifically identified wherever matter therein is incorporated in a subsequent statement.

(c) Filing may be made in person or by mail and, except where made in person, shall be deemed to have taken place upon the deposit thereof in the mails properly addressed to the Foreign Agents Registration Section.

(d) In any case where an item of propaganda has been filed with the Foreign Agents Registration Section, together with the statement referred to in paragraph (a) of this Rule, it shall not be necessary, upon subsequent circulation or dissemination to the public of the same item, to forward additional copies to the Foreign Agents Registration Section or the Librarian of Congress. In such case, it shall be sufficient if there is furnished to the Foreign Agents Registration Section, in the detail set out in paragraph (a) of this Rule, a statement concerning the additional circulation or dissemination of any such items. Such statement may be rendered monthly and may cover one or more of such items as have been circulated or disseminated subsequent to the filing of the statements required in paragraph (a). If such statement is rendered monthly, it shall be transmitted to the Foreign Agents Registration Section within ten days after the close of the calendar month for which such statement is made.

(2) That the distribution being made is on behalf of, or in the interests of, a specified principal or principals, and that copies of the material distributed have been (or are being) filed with the Foreign Agents Registration Section.

(3) That the filing of a registration statement with such Section should not be considered as any indication that the United States Government has approved the material being transmitted.

(f) All political propaganda which is orally transmitted by us of a means or instrumentality of interstate or foreign commerce shall be introduced by a statement, in the language or languages used in such oral transmission, which is reasonably adapted to convey to the recipient or recipients thereof all of the facts set forth in paragraph (e) above.

Rule 401. When Political Propaganda "Caused" to be Transmitted Within Meaning of Section 4.

(a) An agent of a foreign principal who is required to register under the provisions of the Act shall be deemed to cause political propaganda to be transmitted in the United States mails or by a means or instrumentality of interstate or foreign commerce, within the meaning of Section 4 of the Act, if such propaganda is disseminated or caused to be disseminated by the agent, knowing, intending or having reason to believe that it will be, and thereafter it actually is, so transmitted in whole or in part, either in the same or in a different form by any person.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a), where the person by whom the political propaganda is so transmitted is not directly or indirectly affiliated or associated with, or supervised, directed, controlled, financed or subsidized in whole or in part by, the agent or any foreign principal of the agent, and the transmission of the propaganda is not subject to the direct or indirect supervision, direction or control of, and no compensation or remuneration therefor is paid directly or indirectly by, the agent or any foreign principal of the agent, the agent shall be deemed to have complied with Section 4 if --
