Inquiry:

Dear DOJ public affairs personnel,

I hope this email finds you well. I'm Sameer Rao, a reporter for Law360. I'm reaching out to follow up on a similar request from a few weeks ago. I'm writing an article (whose scope evolved since I last reached out) about the legal context surrounding law enforcement's treatment of assemblies, ranging from the 1/6 Capitol insurrection to the Black Lives Matter protests of the summer and others. I seek answers to the following questions, which you're welcome to email by my deadline or address by calling me (b)(6).

- 1) What laws and protocol guides the way your agencies police assemblies and protests, including the way arrests and charges are made afterwards?
- 2) Can you explain why the response to the 1/6 events, including some of your agencies, was more hands-off and delayed as compared to what happened at Lafayette Square Park over the summer, or to J20 protesters at President Trump's inauguration, or to how federal agents handled protesters in Portland over the summer?
- 3) Can you discuss the scope of charges being made against those who participated in the 1/6 events?
- 4) Do you feel that there might be a racial or political bias in the policing of J20 or BLM protesters as compared to the pro-Trump protestors and rioters on 1/6? I'm curious if you see things that way or at least see any merit to claims of racially and politically disproportionate policing of assembly.
- 5) Anything else you'd like to add that my questions didn't address?

Thank you,
Sameer

The Honorable John Ratcliffe
Director of National Intelligence
Office of the Director of National Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Director Wray, Acting Director Vanech, Mr. Maher, and Director Ratcliffe:

The American people continue to learn disturbing details about the horrific insurrection at the U.S. Capitol and surrounding area on January 6, and the growing public record is still far from complete. The House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence (the “Committee” or “HPSCI”), the Committee on Homeland Security, the Committee on the Judiciary, and the Committee on Oversight and Reform (collectively, the “Committees”), in exercise of their legislative and oversight jurisdictions, are reviewing the events of January 6 and related threats against the Nation’s peaceful transition of power. The Committees will conduct robust oversight to understand what warning signs may have been missed, determine whether there were systemic failures, and consider how to best address countering domestic violent extremism, including remedying any gaps in legislation or policy.

As a first step, and as described in the annex to this letter, the Committees ask that your organizations produce relevant documents, and schedule briefings, regarding specific intelligence matters associated with the insurrection and threats to the U.S. presidential inauguration.

Security and logistical preparations before January 6 were not consistent with the prospect of serious and widespread violence. Yet, according to media accounts that have surfaced in recent days, federal and other authorities earlier on possessed — and may have shared with some parties — intelligence and other information forecasting a dire security threat against the Congress's meeting to certify the election results.¹² These latter reports, if acted upon, might have prompted more extensive planning for the event, and the infusion of far greater security and other resources.

Tragically that did not happen. Emboldened by President Trump's inciteful rhetoric and his false claims of a stolen election — at the National Mall that day and for weeks before — a pack of violent insurrectionists forced their way into the Capitol complex with the intent to stop Congress from discharging its constitutional duties to certify the results of the presidential election. The mob caused extensive damage to persons and property. They assaulted woefully under-resourced U.S. Capitol Police officers and other security personnel, a great many of whom bravely resisted. They reportedly tried to steal one officer's gun, hoping to kill him with it, and injured another causing his death.³ They brought firearms, ammunition, explosives, tactical gear, and zip ties to detain potential victims.⁴ Some of them reportedly planned to take hostages and harm lawmakers. Among the riotous mob were suspected domestic violent extremists, including neo-Nazis, white supremacists, anti-government militia, and, most shockingly, current as well as former law enforcement officers and former military servicemembers.

This still-emerging story is one of astounding bravery by some U.S. Capitol Police and other officers; of staggering treachery by violent criminals; and of apparent and high-level failures — in particular, with respect to intelligence and security preparedness.

The Committees therefore request the records and briefings described in the annex attached hereto in pursuit of the following inquiries:

- What elements of the Intelligence Community (“IC”) and federal law enforcement knew about threats of violence and destruction before, during, and after the insurrection; whether such information was shared with appropriate personnel and if so, how; whether any information was paused, delayed or withheld; and whether the insurrection had any nexus to foreign influence or misinformation efforts, and to what degree foreign powers have sought to exploit and aggravate the crisis;

- Whether any current or former holders of security clearances and/or of positions in U.S. national security, justice, defense or homeland security organizations participated in the insurrection; and
- The policy and other responses to the insurrection, to include any measures to identify, apprehend or prevent the travel of those who committed crimes, including any Domestic Violent Extremists.

The Committees expect and appreciate your full cooperation with this matter – while of course recognizing that resources appropriately and immediately must be allocated to efforts to counter any continuing threats to the transfer of power, including the presidential inauguration and related activities. The Committees stand ready to work with you to arrange for the requested production of documents and briefings.

Dave, Tim, Reg, Mike and Director Washington,

At 12:00 p.m., I will hand over the keys, PADAG title, Acting DAG responsibilities, long days and sleepless nights to John Carlin. As I walk away, I will look back at this building and recall, once again, how incredibly lucky I have been. Serving alongside you and your teams has been the greatest honor of my professional life.

Through three government shutdowns, a worldwide pandemic, nationwide unrest, two Presidential impeachments, contentious elections, and an unprecedented and unwarranted backlash against law enforcement, you have provided superb leadership to your teams and safeguarded the American people (including those who were cursing you out as you did it). You are patriots, warriors and great Americans. When I left active duty 20+ years ago, I thought that I would never again have the privilege of serving with people as selfless, dedicated and spirited as paratroopers. I'm glad to say I was wrong.

I wish you all the best in the days and years ahead. God bless you for what you have done and for what you are going to do and may God bless the U – S – A-.

Tuesday, January 12, 2021

Acting Attorney General Rosen and Director Wray;

On Wednesday, January 6, an armed mob of domestic terrorists breached the walls of the United States Capitol to forcefully interfere with the certification of a free and fair national election. The terrorists, intent on executing a coup, threatened elected officials and staff, terrorized media professionals, destroyed federal property, and ultimately caused the death of five people, including a Capitol Police officer who was bludgeoned to death with a fire extinguisher. Many in the mob wore military or police tactical gear and carried zip-tie restraints, signaling a high level of preparation and coordination for the events that occurred.

This was an attack on our country. As the full extent of the insurrection unfolds, we fervently urge you to investigate the federal and state lawmakers directly involved, as well as those who, through words and conduct, aided and abetted sedition, treason or any other federal crimes.

The events of January 6 were not spontaneous, nor were they the random acts of a diffuse handful of unconnected individuals. For weeks prior to the breach, a group of Republican Arizona legislators and legislators-elect publicly advocated for the overthrow of the election results which encouraged precisely the kind of violent conduct that we witnessed.

Their own social media posts strongly suggest that Arizona State Representative Mark Finchem and former Representative Anthony Kern were present at the riot in Washington D.C. on January 6 and actively encouraged the mob, both before and during the attack on the Capitol. See, e.g., 1-6-21 Twitter Post by Rep. Kern (equating the rally to D-Day); photos on the Capitol steps. After the attack, Finchem and Kern sought to conceal the consequences of their conduct by falsely blaming "Antifa."

One of the riot's organizers, Ali Alexander, publicly claimed to have planned and organized the insurrection with Arizona Congressmen Paul Gosar and Andy Biggs; stating in a broadcast that "[W]e four schemed up putting maximum pressure on [C]ongress while they were voting..." 1-8-21 Twitter Thread Jason Paladino.

They did all of this in public. What they did outside of plain view we do not yet know. But there is evidence to indicate that Arizona Representatives Mark Finchem, Anthony Kern, Paul Gosar and Andy Biggs encouraged, facilitated, participated and possibly helped plan this anti-democratic insurrection on January 6. It is vital to any current or future federal investigations, and ultimately to the Arizona public they represent, that we learn what these elected officials knew about this planned insurrection and when they knew it.

We the undersigned members of the Arizona Legislature, urge you to fully investigate the extent of their involvement. Expeditious timing of this request is critical, as if you find any evidence that these individuals incited, encouraged, or participated in the lawless behavior that took place on that day, we believe they would be potentially criminally liable and ineligible for public office under Section 3 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, as having engaged in insurrection and rebellion¹.

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

January 8, 2021

Vice President Michael R. Pence
Office of the Vice President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Vice President,

After the horrific attack on the Capitol yesterday, instigated by President Trump, we are writing to you to request you invoke Section 4 of the 25th Amendment to determine the President as unfit if he “is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office.”

This week’s events were shocking and unprecedented in our nation’s history. They amount to an attempted coup of our nation’s legislative body to stop the certification of the electoral college results and the peaceful transition of power from one Administration to the next. President Trump’s role leading up to and during the events have made it clear that he is unfit to remain in office for the next 13 days and poses imminent danger to our democracy.

His attacks on you, his own Vice President, his attempts to coerce the Georgia Secretary of State to illegally tamper with election results, his unfounded claims of widespread voter fraud denounced by Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell and not supported by the courts or states, and his insistence that he won the election in a landslide, all demonstrate he is a malignant narcissist and demagogue who is incapable of leading and protecting the country.

Equally alarming is his response to the rioters, from failing to provide necessary federal resources including the National Security Special Event designation; turning down the request of the DC Police to have the National Guard participate in the security of the event; failing to immediately deploy additional support once it became clear that the Capitol was breached; and calling the violent rioters “true patriots”. Therefore, we urge you to expeditiously step in and move forward with invoking the 25th Amendment. Our democracy is at risk and we must explore every measure the Constitution affords us to remove him from office.

We request an immediate response.

Sincerely,

John B. Larson

January 7, 2021

The Honorable Christopher Wray
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
935 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20535

Dear Director Wray:

We write to request an immediate and urgent briefing on the steps the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is taking to investigate and pursue for prosecution the instigation, planning, and execution of the deadly terrorist attack on the United States Capitol on January 6, 2021, by President Donald Trump, his supporters, and outside groups, as well as to disrupt any further activity designed to attack our government.

President Trump repeatedly incited his supporters to travel to the District of Columbia and carry out violence against the Capitol and Members of Congress. On December 19, 2020, President Trump published a tweet inviting his supporters to come to D.C., stating: “Statistically impossible to have lost the 2020 Election. Big protest in D.C. on January 6th. Be there, will be wild!”¹

At a rally yesterday morning, the President told his supporters that “we got to get rid of the weak congresspeople, the ones that aren’t any good” and that “we fight like Hell and if you don’t fight like Hell, you’re not going to have a country anymore.” President Trump ended his speech by telling his supporters, “We’re going [to] walk down to the Capitol ... you’ll never take back our country with weakness. You have to show strength, and you have to be strong.”²

The President’s personal lawyer, Rudolph Giuliani, also spoke at the rally, encouraging the President’s supporters to engage in “trial by combat” to overturn the results of the 2020 Presidential election. The President’s son, Donald Trump Jr. warned Republican Members who supposedly do not support the President that “we’re coming for you.”³

Following the rally, thousands of the President's supporters followed his direction and marched to the Capitol with the goal of preventing Congress from certifying the November 2020 election. Some of the rioters were armed and carrying Trump campaign flags.⁴

As the violent mob stormed the Capitol, President Trump, who reportedly was watching the carnage unfold on television and "was initially pleased by the disturbance."⁵ When President Trump finally released a videotaped statement several hours later, he repeated his false claim that the election was "stolen" and praised the insurrectionists, telling them, "We love you."⁶

In response to President Trump's dangerous behavior, former Attorney General Bill Barr stated that "[o]rchestrating a mob to pressure Congress is inexcusable" and that the President's conduct was a "betrayal of his office."⁷

The attack against the United States Congress resulted in the deaths of at least four people, endangered Members and staff and law enforcement officials, caused damage to the U.S. Capitol building, and disrupted Members of Congress from fulfilling their constitutional responsibility to certify the results of the 2020 Presidential election.

Given the incendiary environment caused and exacerbated by President Trump's rhetoric, along with the upcoming inauguration of President-Elect Joe Biden, it is imperative that the FBI leverage all available assets and resources to ensure that the perpetrators of this domestic terrorist attack and those who incited and conspired with them are brought to justice, and that this domestic terrorist group is disrupted from further actions against our government.

We request an urgent briefing for the Chairs and Ranking Members of the undersigned Committees on how the FBI is working to investigate and hold responsible the domestic terrorists who incited and executed yesterday's attack on the Capitol, as well as how the FBI has been tracking this domestic terrorist group, how it prepared for the events on January 6, 2021, and how it plans to disrupt any further violent plans. This briefing should include detailed information about how the FBI is working to collect evidence and to track these individuals. Please contact our staffs to schedule the briefing.

Dear Mr. Wolf and Director Wray:

We write today regarding the violent insurrectionist acts that took place at the United States Capitol on January 6, 2021, and for information into your agencies' actions leading up to and understanding of the digital environment surrounding the attack. While it is clear that the mob of domestic terrorists, neo-Nazis, and white supremacists was directly incited by President Trump at his preceding rally on the National Mall, many of these extremists were already communicating online and on social media about potential violence and plans to occupy the United States Capitol building in the days and weeks before it unfolded.¹

Since the president lost re-election, he has stoked false and unsubstantiated claims that the election was stolen from him and that actions must be taken to overturn the results. This disinformation spread across digital platforms, fomenting a sharp uptick in reactionary calls for violence. Just from January 1st, there were more than 1,250 posts from QAnon conspiracy theorists on Twitter containing terms of violence. And violence was also specifically directed at Congress. For example, on Facebook, one user wrote in a far-right private group entitled "Joe Biden is not my President" on January 5, "There will be a BIG Civil War if Congress allows the election to be stolen."² On TikTok, videos were posted with close to 279,000 views that promoted violence at the Capitol, calling for people to bring their "mother-[expletive] guns".³ Several threads on mainstream platforms like Reddit and Twitter, and alternative platforms friendlier to those on the far-right like Gab and Parler, contained content for weeks that specifically alluded to planning the violence that took place on January 6. Those at the helm planning this insurrection even had enough time to create merchandise to wear for the event labeled with things like, “MAGA, Civil War, January 6, 2021”.⁴

While this latest sharp increase in violent chatter online is a result of the president’s stoking of proven falsehoods, we have seen a steady increase in online extremist and domestic terrorist coordination over the past several years. In 2019, the Federal Bureau of Investigation labeled fringe political conspiracy theories as a domestic terror threat and an intelligence bulletin from the Agency warned of “anti-government, identity-based, and fringe political conspiracy theories very likely to motivate some domestic extremists to commit criminal, sometimes violent activity”.⁵ The Department of Homeland Security and Federal Bureau of Investigation are both tasked with operations to track online extremist developments and prevent their enactment. However, there have been some notable failures when it comes to preventing violent extremists from orchestrating events that lead to violence, such as at the “Unite the Right” Neo-Nazi rally that occurred in Charlottesville, Virginia in 2017 and resulted in a domestic terror attack which caused loss of life.⁶ January 6 is as another such failure, and one that placed the foundation of democracy under threat.

Fundamentally, we are concerned that law enforcement was seemingly unprepared for the mob that descended on the Capitol on January 6, despite the hundreds of thousands of posts spread about it publicly online. It is implausible that the federal law enforcement agencies tasked with defending the United States against acts of terrorism would not have been aware of and tracking the online ecosystem leading up to this attack. To that end, we respectfully request a response to the following questions by January 15, 2021, and include, if necessary, a classified addendum:

1. Did your agencies anticipate a credible threat of violent activity based on the social media posts leading up to the January 6 attack? If so, what groups were involved and how were they organizing?
2. Describe the nature of communication with the White House or any political appointees regarding the online threat landscape leading up to January 6.
3. Did your agencies notify the relevant law enforcement entities of the threats of violence, including through the dissemination of intelligence bulletins, to other law enforcement agencies? If so, when did this occur?
4. Have your agencies adequately shifted resources, personnel, and training to monitor and find domestic extremism in the online ecosystem?
5. The members of the mob were livestreaming their activities on social media. What was the level of monitoring and information sharing in realtime that your agencies provided to local law enforcement and other authorities?
6. Did your agencies have any communication with the online platforms regarding the violent extremist content? If so, what did this communication entail and when did it occur?
7. What cooperation, if any, have you received from online platforms regarding the violent extremist content shared across their sites?

8. How are your agencies mobilizing between now and the Presidential Inauguration on January 20 to prevent a similar act from occurring, and what resources are you dedicating to the evolving online ecosystem?

We thank you for your attention to this matter.

A US Capitol Police officer has died from events stemming from Wednesday's riot at the Capitol, three sources confirm to CNN, in which a mob of President Donald Trump's supporters stormed the building to stop the counting of electoral votes that affirmed President-elect Joe Biden's win.

The police officer is now the fifth person to die as a result of the day's violence. One woman was shot and killed by Capitol Police as the crowd breached the building and three others suffered medical emergencies that proved fatal.

This is a breaking story and will be updated.

Our job isn't riot control, crowd control or traffic control. It is investigating criminal violations of federal law. Our role for this protest was to ensure there was connective tissues between the lead law enforcement agencies, which we did through the SIOC, WFO Ops Center and MPD Command center.

You are till hammering the peg.

ok we are tweaking to this - we understand there was a planning call about this earlier this week in which DOJ made this decision:

On a separate call earlier this week, Justice Department officials including Acting Attorney General Jeffrey Rosen, discussed how to handle the planned protest, and concluded they saw little role for themselves in riot control, according to people familiar with the matter.

When Barr was AG he ordered the clearing of Lafayette Square. BOP officers have been called to help various protests in the past year. DEA offered to send agents to assist. We are told all of this by law enforcement officials, including that DHS wanted to have a similar presence this time and DOJ disagreed. Do you want to dispute this on the record?

It wasn't something for him to agree or disagree with. We don't do crowd control. We don't have uniformed police, we have mostly criminal investigators/special agents. There is not a scenario where FBI agents are assigned to traffic control or crowd control as part of a plan, and they only respond as such as a last resort. If you want more people to do that, you activate more national guard or you leverage your

the point we wanted to make was just that both Bowser/MPD and DOJ agreed to go with a light footprint strategy to avoid escalating any tense situations akin to what happened in Portland or Lafayette Square. Is that wrong? This is how we had planned to include it

Washington Mayor Muriel Bowser had also urged federal law enforcement to maintain a light footprint for protests, seeking to avoid the type of show of force that had inflamed already tense situations at social justice protests last year. Acting Attorney General Jeffrey Rosen agreed, according to people familiar with the matter. Once the protesters reached the grounds of the Capitol, they were left in the hands of the quickly outmanned Capitol Police.

There were three distinct areas with three agencies the lead for each. The Elipse was the Park Police supported by the MPD and National Guard.

No significant issues happened at the Elipse.

The roads between the Elipse and the Capitol were the responsibility of the MPD, the crowd walked in a mostly orderly fashion to the Capitol with no significant issues.

The Capitol, is the domain of the Capitol Police and under the chain of command of the Legislative branch leaders.

Each of these agencies made the plans they felt were sufficient and requested assets, if any, that they thought they needed to execute on their plans.

The Department of Justice role was to make sure that coordination and communications amongst the supporting agencies was being facilitated and did so through the FBI's SIOC, the WFO's Command Center and the MPD Operations Center.

I am not sure what your confusion is regarding these roles?

we are told there was a debate about what kind of federal officer presence to have with the protests, and the AG agreed that they should avoid deploying officers from DOJ components to be a show of force in Washington akin to the officers deployed in the summer in Portland etc. Who would be signing off on that if not the AG?

The Vice President
Old Executive Office Building
Washington, DC 20501

Dear Mr. Vice President and members of the Cabinet,

Yesterday, the President of the United States and his allies sent an armed mob to attack the Capitol of the United States of America. Four people lost their lives, and the Capitol was breached for the first time in over two hundred years.

Since losing the election two months ago, the President has been peddling baseless conspiracy theories, outlandish rumors, and outright lies, warning his supporters that the election was stolen from them and that they are losing their country. Fueled by the President's seditious words at the rally in front of the White House, armed insurrectionists stormed America's temple of democracy to stop the Constitutionally mandated counting of electoral votes. They endangered lives of duly elected lawmakers and staff, interrupted the business of the American people, and some even sought to arrest the Vice President for treason. Along the way, they physically attacked journalists and injured members of the United States Capitol Police. Similar scenes played out in state capitals across our country. The President has successfully inspired American extremists to take violent actions in a despotic bid to cling to power. I am further disturbed by media reports that the President took pleasure in the events yesterday, as he continued to stoke the violence with tweets and a video.

In the final days of his term, President Trump still retains the awesome powers of the presidency, has the nuclear football, and is Commander in Chief of our military. After all, he is still the President. But he should not be. You know this. His closest advisers know this. He has surrounded himself with conspiracy theorists and has convinced himself of their lies. The President is unfit and unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office.

If allowed to remain in power, President Trump represents an unprecedented danger to the American people and our constitutional republic. You have the power under the 25th Amendment to the United States Constitution to defend America from this threat. It is your duty to exercise it.

Sincerely,

Charlie Crist

FBI Director Chris Wray Statement:

"The violence and destruction of property at the U.S. Capitol building yesterday showed a blatant and appalling disregard for our institutions of government and the orderly administration of the democratic process. As we've said consistently, we do not tolerate violent agitators and extremists who use the guise of First Amendment-protected activity to incite violence and wreak havoc. Such behavior betrays the values of our democracy. Make no mistake: With our partners, we will hold accountable those who participated in yesterday's siege of the Capitol.

Let me assure the American people the FBI has deployed our full investigative resources and is working closely with our federal, state, and local partners to aggressively pursue those involved in criminal activity during the events of January 6. Our agents and analysts have been hard at work through the night gathering evidence, sharing intelligence, and working with federal prosecutors to bring charges. Members of the public can help by providing tips, information, and videos of illegal activity at the following link -- FBI Seeking Information Related to Violent Activity at the U.S Capitol Building. Subject: Timeline query

Hi Marc,

Regarding the acting attorney general's statement: "Earlier this afternoon, the Department of Justice sent hundreds of federal law enforcement officers and agents from the FBI, ATF, and the U.S. Marshals Service to assist the Capitol Police in addressing this unacceptable situation, and we intend to enforce the laws of our land."

Can you clarify for me:

1. When specifically did Rosen (or whomever, correct me if it wasn't Rosen) give the order to muster those "hundreds"?
2. When specifically did they arrive at the Capitol? Pictures from the late afternoon and early evening don't seem to show an enlarged law-enforcement presence.
3. To the above point, can you clarify what specifically they did? Were they held in reserve or did they clear out the Capitol building and grounds? What did they use to do it, how many arrests did they make?
4. Who specifically was the on-scene commander?
5. What preparations beforehand did the Justice Department make for the march on the Capitol? There is a very stark contrast between how aggressively federal police phalanxed federal buildings during the Black Lives Matter protests and how easily the insurrectionists overran the Capitol. What accounts for that?

If it's easier to call me, I'm (b)(6).

Thanks,
Spencer

Good evening. We are in a fluid situation as we integrate information from both official sources and open-source reporting. Our plan for these SITREPS is to share information we are receiving from our RESF partners in the Region through email, phone calls and our HSIN Chat Room. The next report will be issued in approximately 5 hours (12AM) unless the situation dictates an updated report be released prior to that time. Please reach out to us at ncric3.hsema@dc.gov if you have information to include in the next SITREP.

NCR Watch Desk

Incident Name: Civil Unrest (1/6/2021)
Situational Analysis Report #: 001
Report Date: 1/6/2021
Issue Time: 7PM

Current Situation Overview: The Capitol Building has been secured following the civil unrest at the US Capitol, later declared as a riot by DC Police. Several Capitol campus buildings were in a shelter-in-place status following a breach of the Capitol by the demonstrators, with Congress in recess since the breach. Shots were confirmed to have been fired inside the Capitol, with one reported fatality. FEMS has confirmed five transports as well as multiple officer injuries.

Current Impacts/Actions:

- Congress plans to resume the Electoral count at 8PM now that the Capitol has been secured.
- Mayor Muriel Bowser has instituted a citywide curfew for DC to begin at 6PM and last until 6AM.
- Arlington County and the City of Alexandria have instituted a curfew to begin at 6PM and last until 6AM.
- Metrorail will close at 8PM. Last trains will depart downtown transfer stations at that time. Inbound service (toward downtown) will end earlier than 8PM.
 - Metro trains continue to bypass Capitol South Metro Station.
 - Metrobus service will be suspended systemwide at 9PM.
- MEMA has activated their EOC to partial level activation as of 3:30PM in support of DC First Amendment Activities.
- Montgomery County Police Department (MCPD) currently has 1 SERT team of 20 officers deployed to the US Capitol. MCPD is working to secure the border at Friendship Heights tonight with units and is ready to deploy as necessary. Montgomery County Fire & Rescue Service currently has 4 EMS units operating in DC and a task force ready to deploy if needed.
- Fairfax, Arlington, and Alexandria Fire & Rescue departments have temporarily suspended all transports into DC hospitals.
- Per Governors Hogan and Northam, a combined 400 officers from Maryland and Virginia will be deployed in DC to provide support, as well as members of the Maryland and Virginia National Guard.

NTIC Impact Assessment

(U//FOUO) Violent demonstrations are expected to continue into tomorrow morning despite the Mayor's Order of a curfew for the District. This violence is currently focused at the US Capitol, but could spread throughout the city depending on law enforcement response. The breach of the US Capitol will likely encourage the demonstrators to continue their efforts to impact the Congressional verification of the 2020 Presidential Election whenever Congress resumes their session.

Good evenin (b)(6), (b)(7)(C),

Hope this email finds you well, despite the day's chaotic events. I'm emailing today with a profile report detailing the identification of a protester named Jacob Chansley (also known as Jacob Angeli) who was documented storming the Capitol during the Jan 6. "Stop the Steal" protest. Chansley happens to be a popular QAnon conspiracy theorist who maintains a significant presence on social media. In the report below, please find information regarding his online profiles and offline activities.

As always, I'm happy to answer any questions or concerns, and appreciate you taking the time on these matters. Hoping the evening brings some peace.

Protester Who Stormed U.S Capitol Identified as Prominent QAnon Activist, Spread Inflammatory Conspiracy Theories Across Social Media

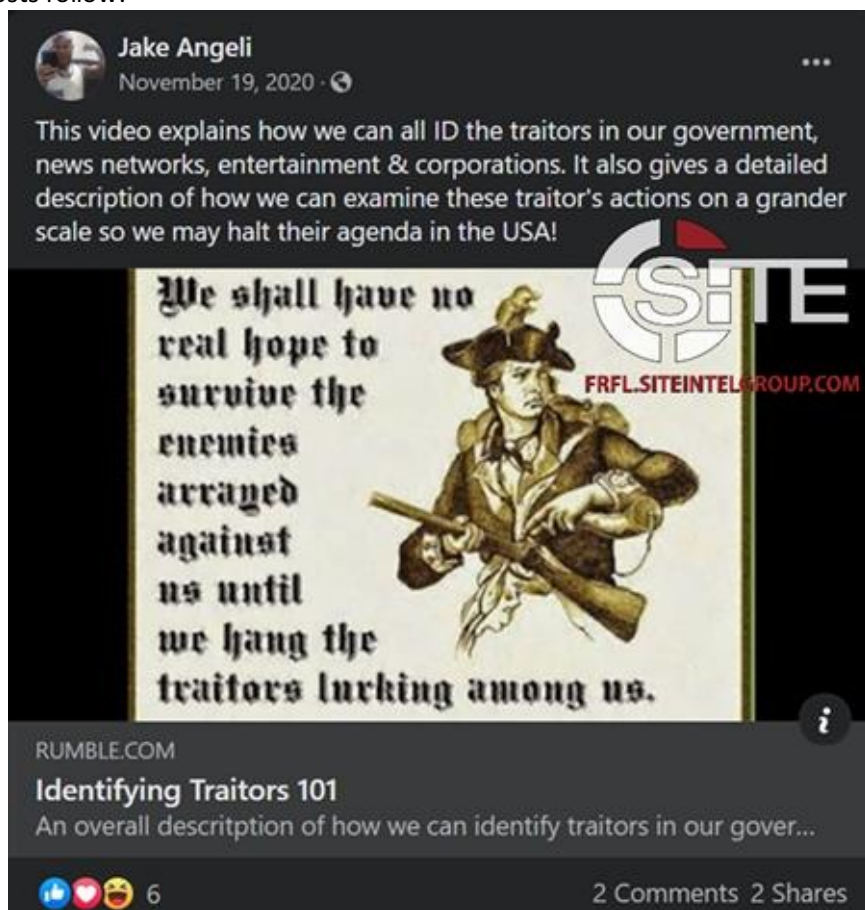

One of the pro-Trump protesters documented breaking into the U.S Capitol building has been identified as a prominent QAnon activist from Arizona who used his presence on social media to disseminate incendiary anti-government conspiracy theories.

Sourcefeed Entry: <https://sourcefeedfr.siteintelgroup.com/sourcefeed/item/18169/>

Known for his attendance at previous pro-Trump protests where he often appeared dressed in fur, head dresses, and other "tribal" clothing and loudly espoused various QAnon conspiracy theories photos of Jacob Chansley (who also goes by the name Jacob Angeli) have been circulating the internet showing the activist among the violent mob of Trump supporters who breached the U.S Capitol during the "Stop the Steal" protest in Washington D.C.

On his Facebook account, Chansley regularly posted pro-Trump and QAnon-related content: heavily pushing voter fraud, "Satanic" child sex trafficking ring, Coronavirus, "Deep State," and other anti-government conspiracy theories. Examples of these posts follow:

On December 13, 2020, Chansley posted photos documenting his attendance at the December 12 “Million MAGA” protest in the U.S capital holding signs that read “Q Sent Me” and “Hold the Line Patriots,” seen below:

Notably, on November 30, 2020, Chansley posted photos of himself shaking Trump's advisor and lawyer Rudy Giuliani's hand, appearing to boast a direct connection to the President to his QAnon followers:

Chansley also ran a YouTube account to which only one 9 minute, 25 second video has been uploaded. On February 27, 2019, Chansley referring to himself in the video under the alias “Yellowstone Wolf - posted the video titled “Secrets Of The Universe: Energy, Frequency & Vibration” in which he explores spiritual and “cosmic” philosophies. The video can be accessed through SITE Multimedia here:

https://sourcefeedfr.siteintelgroup.com/media/uploads/2021-01-06/Secrets_Of_The_Universe_Energy_Frequency_Vibration.mp4

Further, Chansley maintained a more active “Yellowstone Wolf” channel on the video hosting platform Bitchute, where he has uploaded 15 videos promoting anti-government conspiracies relating to topics such as CIA “sex trafficking,” alleged “crimes” of “treasonous” U.S government official and media outlets, underground “slave trades,” “leftist psychological warfare,” “communist black magic,” voter fraud, among many other outlandish theories.

He is also supposedly the author of a book known as “One Mind At A Time: A Deep State of Illusion,” which claims to “exposes the history, strategy, & goals of the Deep State in detail.”

Sir,

Four deaths have been reported within and around the U.S. Capitol grounds.

~13 MPD officers and 13 civilians have been injured.

Media reporting indicates ~50 people have been arrested by MPD as part of the protests.

Four of those arrested were charged with carrying a pistol without a license, possession of a large capacity ammunition feeding device, possession of unregistered ammunition, according to DC Police. The rest were arrested because of disobeying the curfew put in place by DC's Mayor Bowser from 6 p.m. on Wednesday until 6 a.m. on Thursday. Of those arrested, multiple people were not from the DMV area, according to the information provided on those charged by DC Police. Some of the states that these people charged are from including Michigan, Colorado, Texas and North Carolina.

This is crazy. I was on a phone call with the AG, Deputy AG, DOD Secretary, Vice President Pence, Senate leader McConnell, minority leader McCarthy, Sen. Schumer, and House Speaker Pelosi tonight at 7:20 and we briefed them all on this and told them that we cleared their chambers and they could go back in and restart their sessions (b)(5)

What do you think (b)(5)

(b)(5) We launched hundreds of agents, DOD launched hundreds of citizen soldiers, DHS launched over a hundred officers, we cleared the building, set up a security perimeter, defused bombs, etc. All of this is in addition to what we were asked to do in the prior planning phases.

Thoughts?

Please don't try to spin me.
The protestors this summer began to be violent on a Friday evening, May 31, when the president was rushed to his bunker. By Saturday evening the DOJ had mobilized. It was not after days or weeks of rioting. You can't rewrite history that played out on social media and before news cameras.
The acting AG has literally had many more days than that to prepare. I understand that you are working very hard, but it is not your job to lead the DOJ. It's his.
Appreciate your work, but this isn't about you.
And his lack of visibility raises questions when compared to the vigorous response of this summer.

Marc,

The DOJ's response to today's riots is far different from its response to the protests of the summer.

We did not see Rosen walking the streets with Steve Engel in tow, directing the forces. The press didn't have phone calls with Zach Terwilliger to go through the strategy that the department was using to coordinate the response, because there was no similar coordination.

Rosen didn't have the F (b)(7)(E) per FBI to do reconnaissance of the area near the Justice Department, and he deputize guards from the Bureau of Prisons to patrol the streets and make arrests.

We also didn't see people be arrested for breaching the US Capitol and rifling through the desks of sitting lawmakers.

I think it's fair to wonder whether US attorneys have been urged to use every tool at their disposal -- on a conference call with all US Attorneys no less -- to deal with the unrest we saw today.

When I asked you about this yesterday, you said "We have no indication that things will be as violent this week as they were this summer." You said this despite warnings on Parler and the president's public request that his supporters come to DC to upend the results of the election.

All best,
Katie

Riot Response Hampered by No Clear Federal Chain of Command

Newsweek | Naveed Jamali and Tom O'Connor

Even after the federal authorities declared the U.S. Capitol Building cleared of riotous protesters supportive of President Donald Trump, remaining mobs of protesters streaming across district and state lines pose a lingering threat that the officials say the federal government is failing to sufficiently address.

Washington, D.C. Mayor Muriel Bowser has mobilized the entirety of the District's National Guard force to quell violent demonstrations that disrupted congressional proceedings to certify President-elect Joe Biden. She has requested backup from neighboring Virginia, where Governor Ralph Northam has also declared a state of emergency as a result of ongoing unrest in the area.

But with no federal agency taking charge outside of federal property, one member of the D.C. National Guard currently on orders in the District, who spoke to Newsweek on the condition of anonymity, described a chaotic atmosphere that left the chain of command unprepared and unclear.

"What's most concerning is the lack of preparation here," the DC National Guard member said. "I don't know who in the chain of command dropped the ball. There was no plan and we were not in position when we needed to be."

With one woman shot dead during the siege, armed standoffs within the congressional chambers and multiple potential explosive devices discovered, the level of danger was clear, and the DC National Guard member felt irresponsibly placed in harm's way.

"We are also put at a needless risk," the DC National Guard member said, "going out to face a mass act of terrorism with no body armor or weapons."

The storming of the Capitol following repeated calls by Trump to challenge Biden's electoral certification is the first attack on the building since British forces burned the iconic structure more than two centuries ago. during the War of 1812,

"The rest of the world of is waking up to images of the U.S. Capitol being seized," a senior U.S. intelligence official told Newsweek. "This has not happened since 1814."

While federal agencies have offered assistance, no agency has been designated to be the lead agency to an expanding threat.

Now scenes of related disorder are reportedly appearing in other cities including Los Angeles, where bloody brawls broke out between Trump supporters and members of the Black Lives Movement, and in Olympia, Washington, where armed protesters have attempted to break into Governor Jay Inslee's residence. Gunmen also gathered at the Oregon capital of Salem to support Trump's efforts to overturn his electoral loss to Biden.

The FBI is among the federal agencies responding to the riot, though their role—like other agencies—is limited to providing assistance to the U.S. Capitol Police tasked with protecting the legislative building.

"The FBI has been deployed to assist our U.S. Capitol Police partners as requested in protection of federal property and public safety," an FBI spokesperson said in a statement sent to Newsweek.

The Pentagon is also on standby. Acting Defense Secretary Chris Miller issued a statement activating the D.C. National Guard to assist Capitol Police and offer additional services.

"We are prepared to provide additional support as necessary and appropriate as requested by local authorities," Miller said. "Our people are sworn to defend the Constitution and our democratic form of government and they will act accordingly."

The Department of Homeland Security reported that its personnel were also assisting Capitol Police.

"Federal Protective Service and Secret Service have been requested to provide assistance to Capitol Hill Police. They are fulfilling that request," a DHS spokesperson told Newsweek. "The Department of Homeland Security has stood up the DHS Virtual Situation Room to facilitate department and interagency communication and coordination, as we do for many large events in D.C."

Trump offered conflicting messages to the crowd, first telling them to remain peaceful before asking them to return home and then praising their efforts via Twitter, which then locked his account. His actions have caused many in the Republican Party to turn on him and condemn his inflammatory rhetoric.

One of the president's former political appointees to DHS described the situation to Newsweek as "an embarrassment to conservatives everywhere."

“The violence at our Nation’s Capitol Building is an intolerable attack on a fundamental institution of our democracy. From the outset, the Department of Justice has been working in close coordination with the Capitol Police and federal partners from the Interior Department, the Department of Homeland Security, and the National Guard, as well as the Metropolitan Police and other local authorities. Earlier this afternoon, the Department of Justice sent hundreds of federal law enforcement officers and agents from the FBI, ATF, and the U.S. Marshals Service to assist the Capitol Police in addressing this unacceptable situation, and we intend to enforce the laws of our land.”

Good evening ?Chad and Joanne,

The FBI deferred the Committee's referenced priority request to DOJ, with respect to any communications between the Bureau and the Department of Defense on interagency coordination and support related to tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress. As set forth below, we are particularly interested in recent discussions at the leadership level, if any, between the Bureau and the Department of Defense. Please find a full copy of our request in the below email thread and the FBI's response.

Specifically, in that context and regarding tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress, please also clarify whether and to what extent Department of Defense leadership, including the Acting Secretary or his staff, have sought information from or are coordinating with FBI regarding activities or support related to tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress and/or any expected protests, rallies, or security events in the city. As you can imagine, given heightened public concern about the role of federal law enforcement and the military during this transition period, the Committee wants to ensure that the Bureau is transparent not only about its own preparations and planned activities, but also is not ensnared in any improper or questionable activities or requests for information by any other component of the government, including DOD.

Because the Joint Session of Congress is tomorrow, we respectfully request your response this evening or early tomorrow morning.

Many thanks in advance for your attention to this matter.

The FBI's mission is to protect the American people and uphold the Constitution of the United States. The FBI focuses on criminal acts, threats of violence, and violations of federal law, and does not investigate solely First Amendment-protected activity. Rather, the FBI investigates those activities that threaten the safety of our communities and will use authorized methods and available charging instruments when appropriate.

The FBI prides itself on robust partnership and coordination with local, state and federal law enforcement officials. For information related to DoD communications with the Department of Justice (to include the FBI), we defer you to DOJ.

As always, the FBI will continue to advise the committee on threats consistent with our law enforcement and national security obligations.

(b)(6), (b)(7)(C) per FBI,

The Committee requests a quick turn update on the FBI's efforts and preparations concerning tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress, including (1) its assessment of the various threats and (2) its overview of interagency coordination and support. In the latter regard, as set forth below, we are particularly interested in recent discussions at the leadership level, if any, between the Bureau and the Department of Defense.

A brief email should address the request, as the event is tomorrow; we also ask that appropriate personnel also stand ready to speak by telephone later today, and to address any follow up questions from Committee staff.

This matter is of high interest to the Committee, especially in light of recent press reporting suggesting that individuals, possibly with links to violent extremist groups, may be involved with violence or criminal activity in the vicinity of the U.S. Capitol or in relation to the event. The Committee believes it essential to ensure that security and law enforcement measures are lawful and appropriate, especially when there may be a nexus to First Amendment activities at National Special Security Events (NSSEs) or those with similar high profile characteristics.

In that context and regarding tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress, please also clarify whether and to what extent Department of Defense leadership, including the Acting Secretary or his staff, have sought information from or are coordinating with FBI regarding activities or support related to tomorrow's Joint Session of Congress and/or any expected protests, rallies, or security events in the city. As you can imagine, given heightened public concern about the role of federal law enforcement and the military during this transition period, the Committee wants to ensure that the Bureau is transparent not only about its own preparations and planned activities, but also is not ensnared in any improper or questionable activities or requests for information by any other component of the government, including DOD.

Because the Joint Session of Congress is tomorrow, we respectfully request your response by COB today. Many thanks in advance for your attention and help.

Location(s): New York, New York

Multiple air traffic controllers in New York heard a chilling threat Monday in audio obtained exclusively by CBS News: "We are flying a plane into the Capitol on Wednesday. [PII removed] will be avenged."

The FBI and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) are investigating the message.

The threat refers to an Iranian official killed last year in a U.S. drone strike ordered by the United States. It was made on the one-year anniversary of the Iranian official's death, for which Iranian officials have long vowed revenge.

It's unclear who sent the threat. While the government does not believe the warning of an attack is credible, it is being investigated as a breach of aviation frequencies, CBS News has learned.

Sources told CBS News that the Pentagon and other agencies were briefed Tuesday about the digitized voice recording. The sources said they believe the threat was designed to suggest hitting the Capitol on the same day the U.S. Congress is set to count the Electoral College results.

Experts said the intrusion is concerning because it could affect the instructions pilots get about how and where planes fly.

Sources told CBS News a message was sent to air traffic controllers on Tuesday reminding them that any threat or a plane deviating from its flight path should be reported immediately.

The FBI is not commenting but said it takes "all threats of violence to public safety seriously." The FAA said it is in contact with law enforcement.

Pat,

As I understand it, the main driver has been the many inquiries we have been getting from the Hill and the press corps about whether DOJ is preparing for the demonstrations in light of the civil unrest this summer. At that time, AG Barr was putting out a lot of statements about response and preparedness. E.g.:

<https://www.justice.gov/opa/pr/attorney-general-william-p-barrs-statement-protests-washington-dc>

<https://www.justice.gov/opa/pr/attorney-general-william-p-barrs-statement-riots-and-domestic-terrorism>

We have also been receiving specific inquiries about whether A/AG Rosen will take a similar approach to AG Barr.

Good morning,

BOP has about (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F) for unrest related to the protests today/tomorrow. Once this information is public, we should be prepared for Hill inquiries. Can you reach out to Jennifer to see if she had had any Hill interest yet or to at least put her on notice?

As an FYSA, we expect to release a very short statement this morning describing the Department's efforts to maintain public safety.

Current CTS intel summary. Contains investigative information, please do not distribute outside of DOJ.

Date of Information: 4 January 2021 13:45

The CTS Intelligence Team has limited threat reporting from government sources at this point.

The CTS assignments distro group received a report from the district of Maryland thru the ATAC Coordinator:

- (b)(7)(E) per FBI

(b)(7)(E) per FBI

WUSA9, a local news site, is reporting:

- One of the websites used for organizing the event was encouraging attendees to bring guns.
- The District government has posted signs reminding members of the public and anyone attending the events that District law prohibits anyone from carrying a firearm within 1,000 feet of any First Amendment activity.

The Mayor of DC, Muriel Bowser, in a press release:

- Directed the DC Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency (HSEMA) to stand up the District's Emergency Operations Center (EOC) beginning Monday, January 4, to coordinate the response for the upcoming First Amendment demonstrations, permitted by the National Park Service, scheduled for January 5 - 6.
- Advised Washingtonians and those who live in the region to stay out of the downtown area on Tuesday and Wednesday and not to engage with demonstrators.
- Reminded protest attendees that carrying firearms at the event was a violation of District and Federal Laws, and that DC does not have concealed carry reciprocity.
