THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

At all times relevant to this Indictment, unless otherwise indicated:

I. The Trademark Counterfeiting Act of 1984

1. The Trademark Counterfeiting Act of 1984, as amended, criminalized trafficking in counterfeit goods. Pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 2320(a)(1), it was a crime to intentionally traffic in goods and knowingly use a counterfeit mark in connection with such goods. Pursuant to Title 15, United States Code, Section 1127, a "mark" included "any trademark."

2. Pursuant to Title 15, United States Code, Section 1127, a trademark included "any word, name, symbol, or device, or any combination thereof . . . used by a person . . . to identify and distinguish his or her goods . . . from those manufactured or sold by others and to indicate the source of the goods.”

3. Pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 2320(f)(1)(A), a “counterfeit mark” was a “spurious” mark:

(a) that was used in connection with trafficking in any goods, labels, emblems or packaging of any type or nature;

(b) that was identical with, or substantially indistinguishable from, a mark registered on the principal register in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”), and in use;

(c) that was applied to or used in connection with the goods for which the mark was registered with the USPTO; and

(d) the use of which was likely to cause confusion, to cause mistake, or to deceive.

4. Pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 2320(f)(5), the term “traffic” meant “to transport, transfer, or otherwise dispose of, to another, for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain, or to make, import, export, obtain control of, or possess, with intent to so transport, transfer, or otherwise dispose of.”

II. The Rights Holders

5. The following companies (the “Rights Holders”) owned trademarks, including the ones described below (collectively, the “Trademarks”):

(a) Deckers Outdoor Corporation owned “UGG” word marks, which were registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration numbers 4234396, 4292446 and 3050925;

(b) Nike, Inc. owned “Nike” word marks, which were registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration numbers 1325938, 1214930, 1277066, 1237469, 2104329 and 2180866, as well as an “Air Jordan” word mark, which was registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration number 1370283;

(c) Timberland Company owned “Timberland” word marks, which were registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration numbers 1300704, 1355531 and 2932268;

(d) Mascotte Holdings, Inc. owned a “Yeezy” word mark, which was registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration number 5125895;

(e) Beats Electronics, LLC owned “Beats” word marks, which were registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration numbers 3862142 and 5984571; and

(f) Apple Inc. owned “Apple” word marks, which were registered on the principal register of the USPTO under registration numbers 1078312 and 3928818.

6. The Rights Holders registered the Trademarks for use on footwear, apparel, headphones and other merchandise. The Rights Holders marked their goods with the Trademarks to distinguish them from their competitors’ products and to assure the public of their quality. At no time did any of the Rights Holders authorize, ratify or acquiesce to the use of the Trademarks by the participants in the scheme described below.

III. The Defendants and Relevant Entities

7. The defendant HAI LONG ZHOU, also known as “Zangkun Zhou,” was a resident of Queens, New York.

8. The defendant SAIYIN HOU was a resident of Brooklyn, New York.

9. The defendant YAN XUE HUANG, also known as “Yan Xue Zhou” and “Yan Xue Li Ming,” was a resident of Queens, New York and was married to the defendant HAI LONG ZHOU.

10. The defendant JIAN FEN YANG was a resident of Queens, New York.

14. Yongsheng Trading USA Inc. (“Yong Sheng”) was a purported gift, novelty and souvenir business located at 246-07 61st Avenue, Queens, New York. Yong Sheng was owned and operated by the defendants HAI LONG ZHOU, YAN XUE HUANG and

17. Glory Trading NY Inc. (“Glory Trading”) was a purported toy and hobby goods and supplies wholesale business located at 160-46 24th Avenue, Queens, New York.

Glory Trading was owned and operated by the defendants JIAN FEN YANG [REDACTED]

18. K&J New Fortune Trading, Inc. (“K&J New Fortune”) was an apparel, footwear and textile business located at 739 42nd Street, Brooklyn, New York. K&J New Fortune was owned and operated by the defendants SAIYIN HOU [REDACTED]

IV. The Counterfeit Goods Scheme

19. In or about and between October 2019 and July 2021, within the Eastern District of New York and elsewhere, the defendants HAI LONG ZHOU, SAIYIN HOU, YAN XUE HUANG, JIAN FEN YANG, [REDACTED] together with others, participated in a scheme to traffic counterfeit goods for financial gain.

20. Yong Sheng imported generic footwear and other merchandise that resembled brand-name goods into the United States from China. The term “generic” refers to consumer products with no brand names or registered trademarks affixed to them.

21. The generic goods entered the United States through Port of New York and New Jersey facilities in Newark, New Jersey. They were subsequently delivered to the defendants HAI LONG ZHOU and [REDACTED], both of whom were associated with Yong Sheng, and to the defendants JIAN FEN YANG and [REDACTED], both of whom were associated with Glory Trading. HAI LONG ZHOU, YANG, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] accepted delivery at workshops and storage facilities located in Queens and Long Island, New York.

22. At certain of these workshops and storage facilities, the defendants HAI LONG ZHOU, JIAN FEN YANG, [REDACTED] together with others, applied insignias, emblems, trademarks, features and other brand signifiers to the generic goods, thus converting them into counterfeit branded goods, i.e., consumer goods that bore brand names or registered trademarks, but which were not created by the named brand or the trademark holder.

23. After creating the counterfeit branded goods, the defendants HAI LONG ZHOU, YAN XUE HUANG, [REDACTED] together with others, sold them directly to consumers or to wholesale distributors including, but not limited to, the defendants SAIYIN HOU and [REDACTED] at locations in New York and elsewhere. HOU and [REDACTED] made payments for these goods from K&J New Fortune to Yong Sheng, Glory Trading, [REDACTED]

24. The estimated retail value of the counterfeit branded goods manufactured from the generic goods imported by Yong Sheng, had they been genuine branded products, was at least $130,000,000.
